At the end of the procession were two large army wagons, drawn by six mules, each with soldier teamsters landling the reins, and these were laden with the girls of the Lamar and Bailey schools.

The Bailey and Lamar school football teams play the preliminary game at the double header this afternoon.

After parading through the principal streets of town and going around the plaza, the procession returned to the high school, where an informal assembly was held. Then the students danced.

Yelling their school cheers, they did a snake dance through the minimal streets.

Two great flocks of wild gerse went honk: honk: honking across the city Saturday morning toward Juarez. It is surmised that they are going down into the Samulayuca country and beyond to the lakes from Alumada to Saun. From the noise they made they have no great fear of American sportsmen pursuing them there.

CARRANCISTAS ASSERT SAILING DATES RESUMED ON COAST

Carrancista advices from the south and east tell of the resumption of commercial activities along the coast. Steamship service between New York and Veracrus by way of Havana has been doubled to a fortnightly sailing each way, the Norway-Mexico steamship line has resumed service between Christiania, Galveston, and Veracrus, and the Harrison and Leyland lines are reported as to start up their services again within a short time.

General Switebes Fealty.
